Please pray for the church and students in the Maldives, Iran, and Afghanistan, where no student groups currently meet. Pray against anti-conversion laws and other restrictions that prevent people from living openly as Christians. Jacob Varghese | UESI India

In the changing scenario of our nation, please pray that our students will stand as salt and light, impacting the campus as disciples of Jesus Christ.

Elora | FOCUS Sri Lanka

God has worked in an amazing way through the FOCUS fellowships in Sri Lanka. He has chosen and inspired new leaders to take up their cross and follow him into this ministry. This year we continue to pray God's guidance over these new leaders as they face various challenges of their own. Whether it is intense academic pressure, burnout and frustration at the lack of growth in the fellowship and various other pressures, we pray God's strength, wisdom and guidance will breakthrough these barriers and bring about true revival among the campuses.

Luke Josiah | FOCUS Sri Lanka

I would like others to pray for our university fellowship, which is in University of Moratuwa, Sri Lanka. Please pray for the growth of the fellowship and pray that God grant us wisdom to guide and lead others in faith.

Rabi | FOCUS Sri Lanka

Please pray for our students who are skipping fellowship. They often say they are busy, so we ask God to give them a burden for seeking his presence.

Rushini Jayarathne | FOCUS Sri Lanka

When we organize something from the fellowship it's mostly only the members of the fellowship that show up. But last year we had so many non-believers who came for the World Student Day drug awareness program. So, we want to request prayers for the program we have planned for this year and that we will have so many more who would want to come.

Acsah (University of Colombo) | FOCUS Sri Lanka

In the last few years, we've seen God bring up new student groups in campuses that don't have a Christian Fellowship. We thank God for these FOCUS groups. However, in recent times many groups have become inactive and dormant. We pray that God will revive them and continue to build the emerging pioneer groups. May God inspire students to bring Christ into their campuses and witness for him. May he raise an army that seeks to live out his Word in every aspect of life, including their studies.

Shamini | FOCUS Sri Lanka

Please pray for the private universities in Sri Lanka. While there are many Christians within these campuses, most are not actively engaged in fellowship or growing in their walk with God. Pray that God would stir their hearts, draw them into deeper relationship with Him, and unite them with others in fellowship, so that we may grow together in faith and purpose.

Shamini | FOCUS Sri Lanka

Our fellowship has been growing, and we're so grateful for that. But currently, we don't have a space near our university to gather. The fellowship office where we meet is far away, and many students struggle to attend regularly. Since it's an open Bible study with students from multiple universities, we're unable to meet on campus due to access restrictions. Please pray that God would provide a space closer to the university, opening doors we do not yet see. Also, pray that God would use us in our universities to be voices of hope where the truth is often silenced, to intercede on behalf of those around us, and to influence campus culture with love, integrity, and purpose.

Deenamanasu Yannapu | UESI India

Pray that the LORD would fill students with his Glorious Treasure to stand firm to the LORD. Amen

Pray also that hearts will be open to receive the gospel and commit to bring faithful disciples of Christ.

Jérôme Okoto | GBU Democratic Republic of Congo

This year, we have seen a decline in engagement among our members because several older members have completed their studies and the new generation is finding it difficult to become fully involved, mainly due to busy academic schedules. Give thanks to God for the faithfulness of those who continue to carry the torch for GBU Kisangani and for the past generations who sowed with zeal and left a spiritual legacy. Pray that God will renew the passion and commitment of current members, so that no one will grow weary in service. Thank you for your spiritual support. May God bless you as well.

Andema Zigabe Arthur | GBU Democratic Republic of Congo

The Democratic Republic of Congo cd, for more than 30 years, has been experiencing crises of war, sexual violence, and rape. In Salzburg we will have a mission week after World Student Day. Unfortunately, the (secular) student representatives of our university don't want our movement on campus – they approached the principal and successfully banned our events. We will still do the mission week, but in an off-site student dorm instead. Please pray for students to still come to our events, for good communication between us and the student representatives, and – above all – for open hearts at the mission week, that students will be touched by God and the Good News and find Christ, or get to know him better.

A lot of the students in my group face doubts and only know God through their parents. May they accept Jesus Christ as their personal Lord and Saviour. May they be filled with the Holy Spirit and be fired up for evangelising, with a life of worship and speaking words of encouragement toward each other. Right now, something the group struggles with is people talking bad about each other behind their backs. Pray for various students who are not yet Christian but come regularly to our group - that they might come to love and trust Jesus!

Paula | LKSB Latvia

I pray for those who scoff and roll their eyes, who say Christianity is just a made-up concept and that whatever God is, they don't need it in their lives. I pray for our loved ones outside of Christianity, because God's grace is for everyone. I pray God would soften hardened hearts, especially in territories with national religious trauma, that they would give God a chance to be alive in their life. I pray for our grandparents who suffered political regimes that turned away from God, and I pray for the youth that has rationalized everything to the point where there is no room for faith. Let us pray!

Please pray with us for more young CBU students and professionals who are interested in joining and training for the direction and production team. We dream of having more than one cast per semester sharing Jesus in non-religious spaces in Uruguay.

Sevda Lindo | IVCF Canada, McMaster IVCF group

Pray that students would grow in their relationship with God, learning to seek him first, especially in the busiest seasons of school – that in the pressure of deadlines and expectations, students and leaders alike would keep their eyes fixed on Jesus, trusting him for peace, strength, and purpose. Pray for boldness and courage to share the gospel, in words and actions, among friends, classmates, and peers. That students would intentionally make time to be in God's presence daily, not just in quiet time, but in every moment — inviting God into their studies, friendships, and decisions. Pray that a spirit of revival would move across campuses, stirring hunger for God, genuine repentance, and a desire to live fully for Christ. Pray we would find our identity in Christ, not in academic performance, leadership roles, or achievements. Pray for peace, rest, and mental health, especially during exam seasons or transitions, trusting God to carry what we cannot.

As our club enters a new chapter—with many of our older members graduating and a new generation stepping in—we pray that KCF continues to be what it has always been: a Christ-centred fellowship where we support one another, grow spiritually, and love God deeply. As we begin another year, may we live out our 2025–2026 vision: Love above all else. It is Christ's love that compels us to encourage, serve, and glorify Him. His love is our peace in times of stress, our joy in the midst of trials, and the faith that carries us forward.
